

The Hindu 11.02.2016

Mayor donates Rs.15,000 to govt. school

Karimnagar Mayor S Ravinder Singh donated Rs.15,000 to the Government High School at Sapthagiri Colony in Karimnagar town on Tuesday for providing evening snacks to the SSC students attending special classes for the ensuing examinations.

The Mayor visited the school and participated in the community lunch along with the students and expressed satisfaction over the quality of food being served to the students. Following a plea from the school management for providing some assistance to provide some snacks to the SSC students attending for the evening classes till late hours, the Mayor responded instantly and donated a cheque for Rs 15,000.

On this occasion, he called upon the students to work hard and bring reputation to their school and parents by excelling in the ensuing SSC examinations. He informed the students not to feel inferior to their private counterparts and reminded that he too studied in a government school. He also promised to construct a vermi-compost for proper disposal of the garbage and also a water harvesting structure to store rain water on the school premises. He also promised to donate broom-sticks and other sanitation material for the school.

School headmistress G Pramoda thanked the Mayor on the occasion.

Money is to be spent on providing evening snacks to students preparing for SSC exam