

The Hindu 03.07.2013

Now, your building approval status is online

Staff Reporter

The Chennai Corporation has developed a revised online application system that can be used to obtain building plan approvals through a web portal. The Mayor Saidai Duraisamy said applicants will be now able to monitor the status of their application online.

Under the earlier system, the applicants had to visit the zonal office directly to get information about the status of the application. Once the application has been submitted, the applicant will receive an alert via SMS or email. A second SMS or email, about the date of inspection of the plot will be generated within the next three days. The new system will also send users an SMS or email pertaining to requests for additional documents, if necessary.